ProShape® (Amino)

For Muscles

FitLine® ProShape® (Amino) is a dietary food intended to meet the expenditure of intense muscular effort, especially for athletes.

- Rich in essential amino acids, playing a key role in the growth and retention of muscle mass
- Promotes increased stamina and offsets energy consumed during training
- Supports balance of amino acids to enhance concentration, coordination, durability, recovery, power supply to the body, memory, and motivation
- Perfect for athletes wanting better performance and results
- NTC® supports optimum nutrient intake and bioavailability

DIRECTIONS: Take three capsules with water before your workout and three capsules with water after your workout for optimum results.

"As a former cycling pro, I still engage in sporting activities every day. Essential amino acids are very important to me while I do so. That is why I use ProShape (Amino). My muscles are growing very well with it, and I really feel full of power." – Ronald O.
